

Accredited certification body

As an accredited certification body, Normec CertUp is subject to the requirements of the ISO 17021 standard (Conformity assessment – Requirements for bodies providing audit and certification of management systems). This international standard specifies the requirements that a certification body must meet.

Normec CertUp has an internal quality management system that is regularly assessed by the competent authority in this field, Belac. The external supervisory committee and internal audits enable the services provided by Normec CertUp to be monitored. Normec CertUp is accredited by Belac under certificate number 600 QMS to carry out ISO 9001 audits. Belac does not offer ISO 29993 accreditation.